There was a stock of fireworks in the store which took fire almost at the instant that the cracker was set off and the flames spread across the street. Foreign firms in the open ports are also increasing the use of typewriters. About 500 typewriters are now in use among firms in Hong Kong at present and at least 450 of these machines are American. Purely Chinese firms are now using perhaps 50 machines and more are being sold daily. Business college instruction in various Hong Kong schools is producing a large and increasing force of stenographers among young Chinese and Eurasian people, so that the possible use of typewriters to advantage is greatly increasing.

Five Burned In Powder Explosions

Everett Corey Dropped Lighted Punk Into Pile of Powder—Four Trolleyemen Celebrating With Cannon—Faces Badly Burned by the Flash of Flame—Several Minor Accidents.

Two serious accidents and several minor ones constituted the Fourth of July record of casualties for this city on Thursday.

Unlooked for powder explosions caused the most serious injuries, one young man being badly burned early in the morning and four trolleyemen being injured shortly after in a powder explosion. All five of the victims in these two accidents were burned about the face, but none will lose their sight, it is expected, and all should recover from their injuries.

About 5:30 Thursday morning, Everett Corey, a 17-year old son of Mrs. E. R. Corey, who rents a boarding house at 68 Church street, was about to set off a small cannon in the yard at the house, with him was his brother Avery, four years older, and they had a box in which was a half pound of powder and an empty bottle. In his mouth Everett was holding a piece of lighted punk, which it is supposed he must have bitten in two, allowing it to drop into the powder, which instantly exploded, enveloping his head and hands in a burst of flame and sending fragments of the shattered bottle in his right forearm.

The glass inflicted three deep cuts to the bone in his forearm, two near the elbow on the outer side and the other on the wrist. He bled profusely and his brother at once took him to the home of Dr. J. H. Allen next door, but the doctor was away and Young Corey was also suffering painfully from the burns on his face, his eyebrows being scorched off and his face blistered and filled with powder, while his hands were also severely burned, and there were burns on one leg.

Dr. L. F. LaPierre was called and found that the young man's sight was not injured, but the other wounds and it was not necessary to take the young man to the hospital, as he was cared for at home.

In subsequent celebrations in the immediate neighborhood of Dr. Allen's house on Church street, a big cannon was fired off, the concussion being enough to shatter bottles standing on a shelf in the house and also to jar down a window and break the glass in it.

Four Hurt at the Car Barn.
About half an hour after noon, four employees at the Greenfield car barn were injured as the result of the explosion of powder in a cannon with which they were celebrating the Fourth. The accident occurred in the rear of the car barn. The men had been using the cannon and were reloading it when the powder flared up suddenly, burning them about the face and arms. The names of those injured are Edward Willett, Dominick Oullette, Arthur Miller and Henry Wise.

The first three named were rushed to the home of Dr. LaPierre and then to the Backus hospital on a special car from the car barn, where they were made as comfortable as possible. At first it was thought that two of the men would lose their eyesight, but on examination it was found that their eyes were not injured, although their faces were badly burned with the flaring powder. Mr. Wise suffered only burns about one of his arms and was able to be about during the afternoon. Miller was the worst burned of the four.

The First to Be Hurt.
William Gorton, a small boy living at No. 30 Avery street, was an early celebrator and also the earliest reported who suffered injuries serious enough to call a doctor. About 4:30 o'clock in the morning he accidentally shot a black cartridge into the palm of his left hand. He was treated by Dr. J. W. Callahan, who extracted the powder and banded the hand, which will not be in useable shape for a few days again.

Minor Injuries to Two Boys.
A young Henault boy, residing on Franklin street, was also a victim of the blank cartridge pistol, and was treated by Dr. J. W. Callahan, but his injuries were slight. A small piece of flesh at the base of one of his fingers was burned out of the palm of his hand.

A boy living on School street was reported hurt by a cannon cracker during the afternoon, but not seriously injured.

MOTOR BOAT SHETUCKET STALLED BY ENGINE TROUBLE.
Had to Omit 5 o'clock Trip from New London—Yantic Filled in the Gap.

Because of engine trouble, the motor boat Shetucket of the Thames Navigation company had to omit its return trip from New London to Groton, Thursday afternoon. Later the boat was taken over to Noank, where it was to be hauled out with the hope of getting it into shape for the regular runs today.

Passengers who were at New London expecting to return here by the 5 o'clock trip of the boat were given their money back by the management, and returned by the trolley or waited for an extra trip which the Yantic made after it had reached Norwich at 5 o'clock.

Manager A. V. Smith says the boat back again to New London, so that it came up again, leaving there at 7 o'clock with a good number who elected to wait for the later trip.

The busy day of the business of the season on the Fourth, averaging it, was reported, 200 passengers on every trip.

PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION BY POLISH RESIDENTS.
Athletic Events and Music at the Fair Grounds Under Sokol Society.

At the Fair Grounds, at East Great Plain, on Thursday many of the Polish residents of Norwich joined in a patriotic celebration of the Fourth under the auspices of the Sokol society. Various entertainment features had been arranged for the pleasure of the company, among them being the presence of a band which made itself known by the playing of the national anthem, and the neighborhood throughout the afternoon. There was also a list of interesting athletic events, and in a peaceful and sane way the Poles commemorated the Declaration of Independence, and in so doing, recalling those days when Poland was still one of the free nations of Europe.

BIG CROWD FROM HERE FOR NEWPORT.
Norwich Fourth of July Excursionists Numbered About 700.

There was a big sale of tickets from here for the Newport excursion on Thursday, about 700 Norwich people made the trip, according to the record at the office at the Consolidated road station.

The return of the excursionists was earlier than usual, as they were back here by 5:30 in the evening, reporting a delightful trip that was accomplished with the greatest smoothness and with a very orderly crowd on board the boat.

REUNION OF SISTERS.

NORWICH DELEGATES AT PROHIBITION CONVENTION

Several Speakers Heard in Speeches and Nominations Were Made.

A patriotic meeting and prohibition convention was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Niantic house, Williamsfield camp ground. Four delegates from Norwich, F. S. Edmonds, A. A. Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smith, attended the meeting. The meeting opened with singing America and prayer by Rev. L. E. Livermore of Lebanon.

Fon congressman from the Second district, Rev. C. M. Reed of East Lyme was chosen, and J. D. Conant was made the Twenty-ninth district senatorial delegate. It was reported that an auto had been secured for state work.

The speakers were J. B. McKnight of Ellington and E. A. Smith of this city. H. M. Randall of New York spoke. He said opinion is increasing that our infant industries ought to be weaned. People are tired of the old regime and the campaign this year will be run by the people.

A resolution was then given by Duffie Hall of Westerly, the subject being At the Mercy of the State.

Capt. J. L. Randall of Groton spoke: If the ice which the Titanic struck had been spread over forty miles it would have just grazed the point on the Titanic, but it was massed, so the Titanic went down. If the temperance movement should be massed the ship Alcohol would go down. Rev. L. E. Livermore then followed with a few words on the need in the south of preventing the shipment of liquor from wet to dry counties. A solo was rendered by Mrs. F. L. Hall of Westerly, Mrs. E. A. Smith accompanying on the piano.

Rev. W. S. McIntyre then spoke and he was followed by others including three Norwich men. Then a paper was read by Dr. E. C. Chapman of New London. He said the time is coming when the enormous amount of food-stuffs will be diverted from the present power to destroy mankind to the feeding of the nation.

He said we should emphasize that the liquor business is not an ordinary business, but is a crime, and a crime cannot be legalized. The only way to legislate is by a law administered by those favorable to the law.

Incidents in Society.
Mrs. Chester Hewitt of Derby is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodward of Spalding street.

Mrs. J. C. Darby of McKinley avenue leaves for New York today and sails Saturday on the Olympic for a visit in England.

Miss Ellen L. Avery left on Thursday for New York and sails Saturday on the Columbia for a ten weeks' tour in Europe. Her sister accompanied her to New York.

CHANGES AT NORTHFIELD.
Entire Renovation of Marquand Dormitory Will Be Made This Summer.

W. B. Moody, the president of the board of trustees of the Northfield schools, has just announced that Marquand hall, the largest of the early dormitories of the Northfield seminary, is to be entirely renovated this summer. The contract has just been let, calling for an expenditure of about $25,000. A friend of the Northfield schools has anonymously contributed for this work.

New floors, new stairways at each end of the building, and new clothes closets are being installed. The old wiring plumbing and heating arrangements are giving way to more modern equipment. The plastering and stonework is being gone over, and the kitchen will practically be rebuilt.

Since the dedication of the building in 1885, thousands of girls have studied under its roof, and college students from far and near have used it as their headquarters at the summer conferences. The building was erected by D. W. McWilliams, the executor of the famous Marquand estate, at a cost of $17,000.

Gould hall will take the place of Marquand hall this summer. This fine building, less than a month old, is the gift of Miss Helen Miller Gould, of New York, and is being occupied by the Young Women's Conference. The girls from Dobbs Ferry school will occupy the building, then those interested in missionary work will take possession, to be quickly followed by the Summer school workers of all New England and those interested in general Christian work.

During the general conference in August it is expected that the building will be the most popular on the conference grounds, due to its proximity to the Auditorium and Sage chapel, East Hall, West Hall, Dr. Moody's cottage, and Henry Moore's cottage will be some of the other buildings used to house the large crowds during August.

The new Marquand hall will be ready in September to receive the largest enrollment the Northfield seminary has ever had. All the girls in the Northfield buildings and even then many will be turned away because of lack of room. The comfort of these students will also be increased by the use of Gould hall, which will be open for registration day in the early part of September. This building, the gift of Mrs. J. Stuart Kennedy in memory of her husband, the well known philanthropist, will contain all the administrative offices of the school corporation.
